

Don't be left out

Get listed and reach 55,000 island readers!

For many of the Journal's 55,000 readers, the calendar is the most popular section in the paper. You too can be a part of our exciting events listings for FREE. Be sure to post, copy, share and use these guidelines to include your event in the calendar.

Know the Rules

Hawai'i Island Journal is published on alternate Saturdays. Submissions deadlines are ten days prior to the publication date. Most listings are not continuous, so if you would like to be listed for more than one issue, please resubmit the information. Photographs in black and white or color are welcome for all events and performances. Hawai'i Island Journal cannot return submitted photos.

Hawai'i Island Journal calendar is a free listing published on a space-available basis. Out of the numerous submissions we receive each week, we try to provide the widest variety possible; however, we can't guarantee that every submission will be listed. A guaranteed alternative to our calendar listings is a classified ad on the Mixed Plate.

Call 895-7816 for information about Mixed Plate or 961-1200 for calendar info.
